

“New Monozukuri” in the Corporate Communication Equipment Group

The Japanese word "monozukuri" is a combination of 'mono' meaning thing and 'zukuri' meaning the act of making. However, it is more than manufacturing. It is a mindset, a spirit, a philosophy.

It is the Japanese work ethic and the drive toward perfection. For Kyocera, Monozukuri means manufacturing with integrity.

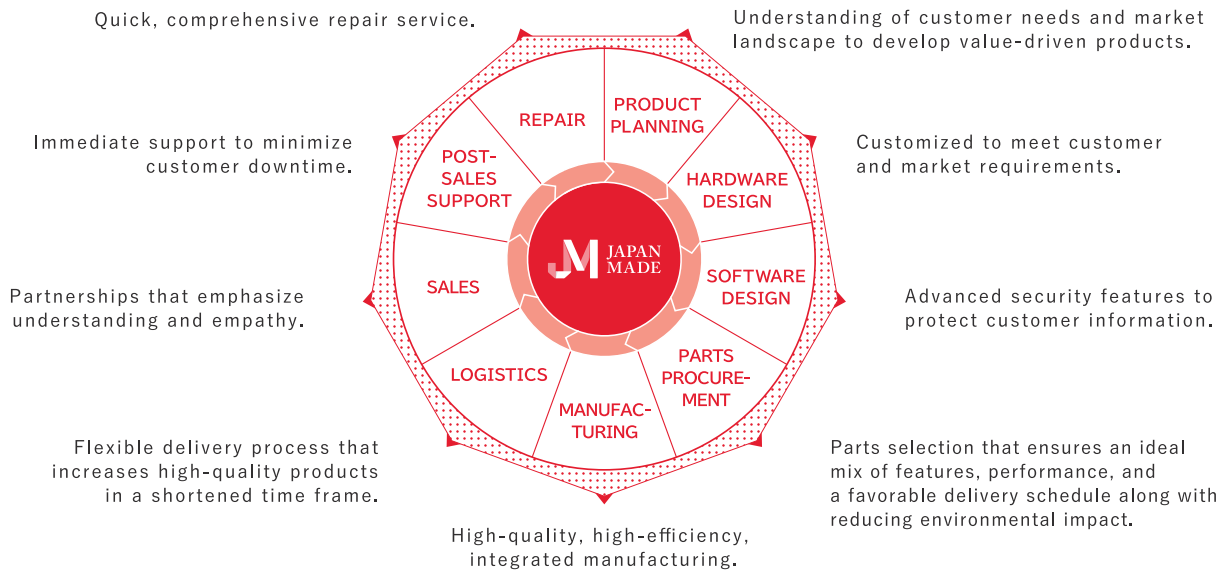

To further the concept of Monozukuri within Kyocera, we develop products by listening intently to the needs of our customers, combined with our own individual experience and addressing needs of the market.

We will continue to deliver cutting-edge technology that improves society, regardless of the challenges of changing environments, through communication and connectivity across generations.

Our products are a reflection of the Monozukuri philosophy.

OUR JAPAN MADE

Kazuo Inamori

JAPAN MADE SYMBOL

This symbol is based on an "Origami" motif which imbues the beautiful gestures and tradition of the Japanese culture. This JAPAN MADE mark symbolizes Kyocera's manufacturing whose processes reflect our sincere thoughts toward cutting edge quality much like that of a carefully folded paper crane.
